Week 25: Summer WFL

Sheila Walsh

Mission Special #2

Sheila: I'm Sheila Walsh. Welcome to LIFE Today. If I were to ask you what the number one problem facing children in the world today is, I wonder if you would come up with this answer. It is a lack of clean drinking water. Do you know that the leading cause of death in children under five years of age globally is the fact that they have nothing to drink but dirty, contaminated water?

I have walked with mothers and asked them, "Can I come with you? Can I see where you get your water?" And had been absolutely horrified at what I saw. And yet the thing that is so clear to me is there's this Sophie's Choice, what do I do? Do I give my child this water that may ultimately cause their death? Or do I give them no water at all and then watch your child die of thirst? This problem according to so many is the number one health issue in the world at the moment.

And the thing that grabs me, that strikes me about that is we're not talking about some horrible disease that people are now in laboratories trying to find a cure for. We're talking about children dying simply because they have no clean water to drink.

At LIFE Today this has become a huge burden to us. Once you know of something, you're responsible then for what you're going to do. So what I want to ask you today is I want to ask you to just pay attention. There are some things I want to show you, some places that I've gone, some places that some of my friends have gone and I just want to ask you to watch. And then I want to ask you to respond in whatever way. How do these pictures, how do these mothers' prayers impact you?

I thought I understood the problem until I hit the ground the very first time in Angola for myself. And it is one thing to watch something on television and think, wow! That looks really terrible. It is quite another -- it is quite another to sit with a mother who has lost a child simply because she couldn't give them anything clean to drink.

You might think well, that's happening somewhere else in the world. Yes. But if you, like me, want to live a life that honors God, if you, like me, want to be the hands and feet of Jesus then we have an opportunity to reach out to these moms and let them know, you're not alone. We see you. And perhaps, you and I together can do something. But first of all, would you watch this?

On the mission field:

Sheila: Does the water ever make the children sick?

Missionary translating: Yes, they do get sick.

Sheila: Would you ask her if any of the children in this village have died from drinking the water?

Missionary translating

Sheila: Okay. So she is going to take us, and we'll get to see with our own eyes the kind of water that is her only choice to give her children.

Oh my gosh! This is what she comes to. I mean, this water is filthy. I notice the mom, she kind of tried to clear it as if somehow that would get rid of the germs or would get rid of the disease, but you can see this water is absolutely filthy! Look at what she is pouring in here. This is all they have.

I asked them, "Do you drink this?"

She said, "Yeah! We wait until the mud settles and then we drink it."

So that's why so many children in these villages are dying because there is so much disease in this water. And that's why Water for LIFE literally means that. When we put a well in a village, we give life to the whole village for their whole life. The need is urgent, and the need is now. Will you please stand with us? Will you help us to give life to children who otherwise are drinking this and dying?

In the studio:

Sheila: To say this is wrong is -- I don't even have words. I can't describe what it was like to be with that mother and her daughters. Everything within me wanted to go and grab it from them but they have nothing else. Something of just her desperation has stayed with me; and honestly, I pray it stays with me for the rest of my life because as long as that is happening anywhere, I should care.

I watched one of the moms. She took me to a place where two of her children are buried. I think as a mother I cannot imagine anything that is a greater grief than burying a child. But to bury a child simply because you could not give them a glass of clean water is just wrong. It is absolutely wrong.

So that's why here at LIFE we are committed to making a change. What we want to do is we want to put a well into her village. We want to actually put 400 wells in this year because the need is great. Do you know that for $4800 we can do that? Now to some of you that is nothing. $4800 is like, you know what? I can do that. For others you're like, well, I can't even begin to touch that. But do you know this? $48, when you do that, and I do that and several others and we put it together because for $48 you're providing water for ten people for the rest of their lives.

The amazing thing about these wells that we put in, they last for 70 years. That's like the lifetime of a village. They don't even need electricity because sometimes there is no electricity near. They can be hand cranked. You won't believe what it is like when you finally see fresh water come to a village.

Jesus said, "I give living water. Whoever drinks from me will never thirst again."

If you and I, as the body of Christ, want the privilege of letting people know Jesus Christ is the water of life then we have to meet their immediate need first. What they need is clean water. It is not a lot to ask. That's all they need, and they need it now.

I want to show you another story. I know sometimes it is tempting to flip through channels and think, I don't want to know. But I'm asking you, will you stay with me here and watch this? And then see if something in your heart stirs and you think you know what? I think I want to join in. I think I want to make the impossible possible. We can do it together. Would you watch this?

On the mission field:

Open captions:

My name is Pich and I'm 27 years old. I've lived here my whole life. Our water makes me sick. It makes my children sick. It's the only water we have. There are no other options.

A couple of years ago my son got really sick. We didn't have enough money for the medicine we needed. He got so sick and weak and there was nothing I could do. My baby boy died in my arms.
[Weeping]

He died just because we don't have clean water. Now, I worry about my daughter. She is still drinking that water. What will I do if she gets sicker? Every time I get that dirty water I'm scared to give it to her but she has to drink something.

I hope and pray that we can get clean water soon.

End of video

In the studio:

I can't even imagine what that is like to have that beautiful baby boy die in your arms simply because the only water you have to give him is that filthy water. What else is she supposed to do?

So many of these places where we go, we work in 15 nations around the world, and we're always working with the poorest of the poor. What else is she supposed to do? There's nothing else. She can't go somewhere and miraculously get clean water or buy bottles of water. She has nothing! And now she's praying over her daughter, God, please spare the life of my child.

That's why this is urgent and I'm asking you to join me today. Our commitment is – see, the thing is we have our missionary partners already on the ground. They are just waiting and praying for the resources. So we are the answer to their prayers. So we want to put 400 wells in.

When I said earlier that our wells last for 70 years that's because they are steel-cased, which they need to be in so many of those countries so that they don't fall back in among themselves. They will last, it would take a natural disaster to do anything to these wells.

But for $4800 we can change the life of a whole village. If you can give $144 that would give clean water to 30 people for their lifetime. If you can do $48 that will give clean water to ten people for their lifetime.

This morning I was reading through Matthew and it is a familiar passage, but I guess because this is so much on my heart, it struck me fresh. It says, and it's talking about finally our life down here is over. It says this, and this is Jesus talking, "For I was hungry, and you fed me. I was thirsty and you gave me a drink. I was a stranger and you invited me into your home. I was naked and you gave me clothing. I was sick and you cared for me."

Then the righteous ones will reply, "Lord, when did we ever see you hungry or feed you or thirsty and give you something to drink?"

And the king will say, "I tell you the truth. When you did it to one of the least of these my brothers and sisters, you were doing it to me."

Think about that. This is a spiritual act of ministering to Christ when we care for the poorest of the poor. Now I know that we can't all do everything, but we can all do something. So if you could give $4800 fantastic! That will put a well in a village and we'll be able to bring the footage back and show you -- look at the difference! Look at how you've been the answer to these mothers' prayers.

If you can say, you know what? I'm going to cut out a couple of things in my budget I don't need, and I can give $48. That will provide clean water for ten! If you can do a little more, $144 will provide clean water for 30 people for their lifetime!

It's a huge problem. Children are dying. Even in the last few minutes that I've talked to you do you know that two children die simply because they didn't have clean water? So you join me and say, "We're not going to let that happen anymore. We're going to make a difference."

So please, will you go to your phone? Just make the best gift possible. You can go online but please respond today and let us know we're going to do this. Our people are waiting on the ground and we want to get back to them with good news -- it's on the way. Clean water is on the way!

Announcer: Dirty, disease-filled water! How desperate would a mother need to be to consider giving this contaminated substance to her child? For many mothers, and their families, living in extreme poverty, this is their only choice.

On the mission field:

James: Let me show you a water source that these kids are drinking from. It's literally, with no exaggeration, contaminated water. They let this bucket down and they get the water, but it is not sealed and controlled and capped.

Betty: They're making do with what they have but that's not good enough. It's not going to help them to be healthy. They've got this dirty, filthy contaminated water to work with. They have to drink it to even survive a day. I know that there couldn't be a greater joy from the parents of these children, James than to be able to watch their children grow up. Well, they won't be able to do that if they don't have some fresh water because after a while, the disease is going to kill them.

James: And we're the answer to that problem, all of us working together, each person doing what they can because we know the need is very real. We want you to see it up close and personal. But the thing we really want you to hear and know, you're really the answer. You're the way to provide hope and help to people who deserve it. And drilling freshwater wells, that's love indeed. Help us do it.

Dial that telephone number and make the very best gift you can. Please do it and do it now. Please make the gift or you can go to LifeToday.org and make that gift online.

“How soon ‘not now’ becomes ‘never’!” -- Martin Luther

On the mission field:

Kyle: This is Dauphine. She lives in Madagascar and doesn't have access to clean water. Last year a stay-at-home Mom in Texas almost picked up the phone to help support a new water well in Dauphine's village.

This is Rosa. She lives in a tiny village in Central America. Rosa and her children drink water that looks like this. A couple of months ago, a small business owner in the Midwest almost mailed in a check to drill a clean water well near Rosa's house.

This is Vaughn. He's from Cambodia and he's watched his grandchildren suffer from the affects of a waterborne illness. Last week, a Sunday school class in a large church talked about doing a fundraiser to help ease the pain in Vaughn's family.

Dauphine's son almost made it to his 5th birthday. Rosa's baby almost made it through the night. Vaughn's grandchild was almost well enough to leave the clinic. We can do better than almost. Clean water changes everything.

In the studio:

Sheila: One of the things I want to make clear here, this is not some guilt trip. This is not an "Oh, you have to do this." This is a "We get to do this." This is a joy! We should be rushing to our phones because we have the privilege of doing something significant.

Think of the number of people who are out looking for books on purpose, and having a purpose and having a mission for your life, and why am I here on this earth? I think one of the greatest things we can do is simply be obedient to the call of Christ. He was always with the poor. He was always with those who are broken down. He looked for those who were desperate and he would give them an answer to their prayers. The amazing thing is now, through television and through all sorts of different ways, we can now be answers to those prayers looking up to heaven from different countries around the world.

Jesus didn't say, "I was thirsty, and you almost gave me something to drink." He said, "I was thirsty, and you gave me something to drink."

I just want to thank you if you've gone to your phone. But if you're sitting there thinking well, I'll just watch through to the end. Or I'll see, I'll wait until my husband comes back. I'll see what our budget is. This is something we can all do but it takes every one of us saying we're going to do something now.

I'm thrilled at the fact that our commitment at LIFE just because we see the overwhelming need, if this was a small issue, we wouldn't be bringing it to you. But do you know that two children die every few minutes simply because they're drinking water that's not clean -- waterborne illness? For mothers and fathers and grandfathers around the world to have to bury their little ones because they can't give them a glass of clean water is just wrong.

But the great news is you and I can change that. We have the way. We want to put in 400 wells this year in 15 nations. And if you can give $48 that will give clean water for ten people. What else can you do with $48 in this world? A couple of you go to a movie and you've spent that. But you can save somebody's life! $144, 30 people clean water! Who knows the calling and anointing that God has on some of those lives in some of those nations. That they would be able to grow up to find a relationship with Christ and maybe revolutionize their nation for Jesus. They just need our help at this stage. Don't let them fall at the starting gate. Let's make sure they get to run their race. And they can do that if you and I commit to make a difference.

Some of you have been blessed in your businesses and we celebrate with you. If you could give $4800 that would put a whole well in a village that will last for a lifetime for 1,000 people! Can you imagine? Can you imagine your life when finally we're all home and all these hundreds of people come up and say, "Thank you! You saved my life!"

Please! Go to the phone, make the best gift possible. Please do it and please do it now!

On the mission field

Tammy: I'm sitting here on the edge of the water in Burundi, Africa with this little boy. When I look at his belly, it is not because he's just had a great big meal; it's actually because he's been drinking this water. Do you know that statistics say that they are at most risk between the ages of one to five? So this little guy, right now, I can tell you is not doing well. I fear that if he continues to drink this water, he probably won't make it.

I don't even know if I would call this water. It is filthy. It is so dirty. It is filled with contamination and I know he is in the condition he is in because he's been drinking this water. If we could come in here and drill a well, where he could drink off of that water instead of this filthy, dirty water, I've seen it work before. I know that it works. I know that it turns around quickly for these children.

I would rather be a solution than a problem in this world. So I know a solution. I've seen it; I know that it works. I've been all around the world with LIFE Outreach. I know that Water for LIFE can change not just one life but so many lives around the world. Let's do something right now for Burundi, Africa. Let's do it together. Let's change this little guy's life. Let's turn it around for him. We have a chance to do that! Go online, make a phone call, and give whatever you can give -- the best gift that you can give!

Sheila: We can do something about this. That's the amazing thing, you and I can change this. So the next story we bring you is a story of what it looks like when a water well has gone in a village and finally, these moms and granddads and fathers are able to give clean water to their children. We can do this! We can do it together. We have to commit to make a difference and to do it now.

So if you've tried to get through and the lines have been busy -- I hope they've been ringing off the walls -- if the lines have been busy, write the number down. Keep calling till you get through.

I want to thank you so much for staying with me through this program. And I want to thank you for reaching out in Jesus' name. I can't wait -- I can't wait to bring you back the stories of the difference your life made because you cared enough to reach out.

If you haven't got through, I mean go to the phones right now, remember, 400 wells we put in and for just $48 you can provide clean water for ten people for the rest of their lives. What an amazing privilege we have.

So on behalf of James and Betty Robison, I just want to say thank you so much for being with us on LIFE Today. I pray that as you have reached out to bless others, I pray in Jesus' name that he will bless you. Thank you!
